WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today adjournment of Congress may be delayed until sometime next month because of the squabble over civil rights legislation.

Congressional leaders previously had talked of winding up this session no later than the end of the month.

Knowland, the Senate minority leader, expressed his views at the White House after he and other GOP congressional leaders had held their regular conference with President Eisenhower.

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts said he is "not averse to a compromise" on civil rights bill passed by the Senate.

Eisenhower has sharply criticized the Senate version. The bill approved by the House follows administration recommendations.

Although Martin spoke of willingness to a question that he is not willing to accept a compromise suggested by Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.).

The Senate added to the House bill a requirement for jury trials in all federal contempt of court cases. Eisenhower has singled out that provision for criticism, saying it would tend to weaken the courts.

Celler has proposed to limit the jury trial amendment to cases which involve voting rights.

The civil rights bill is now styled in the House Rules Committee.

Took 20 Years But Hope Man Became a Doctor

Hope Man Is Injured in Wreck on 29

Kenneth Harmon, Hope, was injured shortly before noon today when the pickup truck he was driving overturned on Highway 29 about nine miles south. A blowout caused the accident.

After the blowout the truck traveled 200 yards before overturning according to investigating Deputy Sheriff Jack Arnett. Harmon was brought to Memorial Hospital by an Oxford ambulance. He is not believed to be seriously hurt. Joe D. Harmon, riding with him, suffered minor injuries. The truck was practically demolished.

Relief Money Extended to 12 Counties

CONWAY (AP) — Portions of Arkansas flooded and battered by rainstorms last week will be eligible to share in $400,000 in federal relief money.

President Eisenhower made the allocation yesterday in response to a request by Gov. Orval Faubus. The money is in addition to $800,000 the President previously granted Arkansas for damage relief as a result of last spring's floods.

State Civil Defense Director Owen Payne Jr. today said inspection teams will survey at least 15 counties and six towns immediately after a meeting here tomorrow with county judges and mayors.

Downpours which began Aug. 12 flooded a number of cities and towns in west and northeast Arkansas and inundated thousands of acres of farmland.

Payne said these counties had requested aid: White, Crawford, Craighead, Searcy, Van Buren, Faulkner, Conway, Pope, Perry, Calhoun, Stone, Logan, Johnson, Clay, and Greene. In addition he said Civil Defense inspectors will look at damage in cities and towns including Leslie, Marshall, Perry, Heber Springs, Russellville, and Marmaduke.

Gadsby Is Named SEC Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today named Edward M. Gadsby as chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) a few minutes after Gadsby was sworn in as a commission member.

Gadsby, former head of the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities, succeeds J. Sinclair Armstrong in the $20,500 a year post. Armstrong resigned to become assistant secretary of the Navy last May.

Gadsby is 57, a native of North Adams, Mass., and a graduate of Amherst College and New York University school of law. His home is in Littleton, Mass.

A Norman, Ark. Woman Has Name of True Love

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

That it's been found cows suffer from insomnia.

That during the Middle Ages parishioners often took dogs to church. Some of England's old churches still have hooks or rings to which the dogs were leashed.

That it has been estimated five per cent of American women are fatigued.

That there's about an acre of government-owned forest land for each U.S. resident.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — It took 20 years with several interruptions for Forney Holt of Hope to become a physician—and at 44 he now is beginning an internship at Arkansas Baptist Hospital here.

Holt's dreams began when he studied pre-medicine during the 1930s although he knew he would not have the money to go to medical school for awhile.

Holt obtained an undergraduate degree at Magnolia AM College, now Southern State College, and taught in Hempstead County in 1938.

In 1942 he was drafted. Holt and his wife saved their money.

In 1948 Holt entered the University of Arkansas School of Medicine—and then quit in three months because "I thought I was too old."

Holt became principal of Hope High School in 1949 and later got a master's degree at the university.

In 1951 he was recalled to duty during the Korean War.

In 1953 Holt decided at the age of 40 to try again. He enrolled in medical school here.

This time he continued through.

Some awkward moments occurred during the next four years, eight of Holt's medical school classmates had been his pupils in chemistry classes at Hope a decade previous.

Scouts Get Souvenirs From Hope

The Hope Chamber of Commerce had an opportunity to give Hope some publicity last week when Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ambrose of the Dairy Queen called the office and asked for some souvenirs for a group of Explorers, Scouts, from Akron, Ohio. Sixteen miniature baseball bats manufactured by Bruner-Ivory Handle Company were presented to 12 scouts, three leaders and one interpreter. This group had been on a three week trip to Mexico City and points further south.

They called themselves the Copely Explorer Troup No. 2381 and stated that they were sponsored by the Kiwanis clubs of Akron. It is their custom each year to spend at least three weeks on a trip to some place in North America. In 1954 they spent their time in upper Michigan. In 1955 the Arctic Circle in Alaska. In 1956 the Bahamas Islands and this year in Mexico. They have traveled 27,000 miles on these four trips.

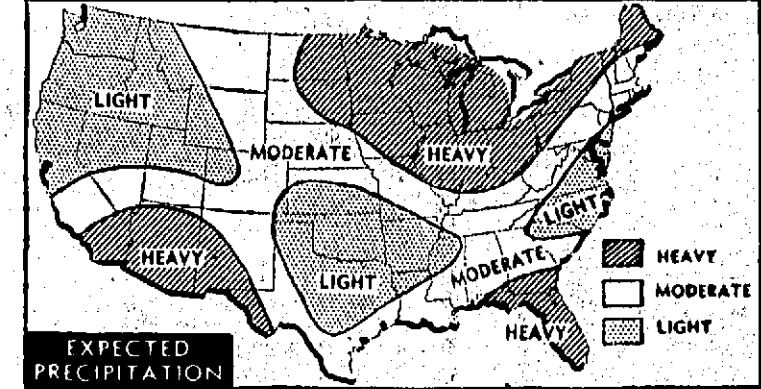

The leaders, Dick Walters, a hardware merchant, Alex Kallman, a furrier, and Sonny Fockler an employee of the Freuhauf Trailer Company and the interpreter Chris Grenados a native of Mexico, but presently living in Akron and being employed by Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, all stated that they had enjoyed the trip as much as the boys.

To make this yearly trip possible each boy contributes $75.00 to the overall expense fund and takes up to $50.00 spending money for his own use. The trailer containing their camping and other equipment was well filled with souvenirs from the different places they had been this year. Four Hope watermelons were added to the collection, two 90 pound sizes and two smaller ones. The larger ones, they stated, would be taken back home to Akron to show to their friends.

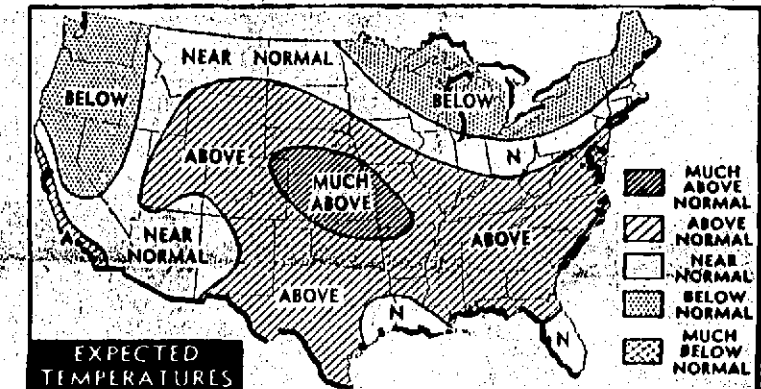

They were very appreciative of the courtesy shown them on their brief stop in Hope.

British Send Atom Weapons to Far East

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — British Defense Minister Duncan Sandys said today that bombers equipped to carry atomic weapons will be sent to the Far East as soon as they are available.

Sandys told a news conference that cuts in Britain's defense forces will fall less heavily on the SEATO area than elsewhere. As new weapons become available, he added, the Far East will not be left out.

"There will be Canberra bombers in Malaya," Sandys said, "and all our Canberras are equipped to carry atomic weapons."

"We are building quite a stockpile of atomic weapons and are now in a position to start building hydrogen megaton weapons," Sandys declared.

"We are not saying where those are going, and when atomic weapons are brought here nothing will be said about that either."

Sandys said in the ballistic weapons program the great length and area of the Western range and possible extensions would be of increasing importance.

He said whether America used Woomera was a matter entirely for Australia, but if the Americans thought Woomera could be useful Britain would not have the slightest objection.

"We started ballistic rockets several years after the Americans but we are working very closely with them. Their first ballistic rocket will go into service a good time before anything we can produce but we are working on a more advanced type," he added.

Sandys leaves tomorrow to inspect the Woomera rocket range and Maralinga atomic testing site.

Demos Predict Atomic Power to Be Okayed

By ROBERT D. NOVAK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Drafters of a Democratic program for government construction of atomic power reactors predicted today it will be approved by a reluctant House.

Most of the program, devised by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, was included in a 352-million-dollar atomic authorization bill approved by a conference committee late yesterday.

Most of the items in the bill are noncontroversial. They cover regular authorizations for Atomic Energy Commission construction work in the year ahead.

The compromise bill was expected to come up in the Senate first, possibly today. Approval was anticipated there.

The House two weeks ago eliminated all the reactor projects in a victory for the Eisenhower administration, which opposed them. But the program was approved in full by the Senate last Friday night, forcing the issue into a Senate-House conference.

The compromise bill includes these projects opposed by the administration:

Lions Hear Talk by Dr. McClanahan

Dr. John McClanahan, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Hope, was the speaker at the Hope Lions Club's weekly luncheon yesterday. His topic was, "How Big Are We, as Men?" Barry Brown was in charge of the program and introduced Dr. McClanahan.

There were 16 members present and four guests. Billy Gentry Jr., Tommy Collier, James Stone and the speaker.

Lion president Cline Franks announced that the Lions • Kiwanis softball game, originally scheduled for Friday night, would be played tonight (Tuesday), at K-park. Game time is 7:30 p. m. Starting lineups are listed on the sports page of today's paper.

Hoffa Returned Money After Extortion Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — James H. Hoffa acknowledged today he once returned more than $7,500 to some grocers after he had been charged with extortion.

But Hoffa protested to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee that the charge had been reduced to a misdemeanor, and contended the matter was being put in an unfair light in its presentation at the committee's hearings.

The 44-year-old Hoffa was brought to the stand as the culmination of three weeks of hearings into charges that he placed racketeers in key New York Teamsters unions posts to capture union political control of the area for Hoffa.

But Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, opening the questioning, swung first into Hoffa's background and police record.

Kennedy asked how many times Hoffa has been arrested.

"I don't know, Bob," Hoffa said. "I think it was about 17 times. I was picked up, in many instances the charges were dismissed but in three of these cases there were convictions."

Kennedy said in one case the grand jury charged Hoffa with extortion in the collection of money from some grocers.

Flaring up Hoffa said this charge was later reduced to a misdemeanor.

"I'm not saying you were guilty of extortion," Kennedy told him. "You're implying it, sir," Hoffa retorted. "You're implying that I am guilty of extortion and it isn't true."

Kennedy said that, anyway, as a result of the case, Hoffa returned some $7,500.

"I think really it was something more than that," Hoffa said.

Hoffa, now the odds on man to succeed Dave Beck as president of the nation's biggest union, told the senators when he took the witness chair that he was reserving the right to refuse to answer any questions he regarded as outside the scope of their investigation.

In giving his background, Hoffa said that in addition to being a union vice president, in charge of its Midwest area, he is president of Teamsters Joint Council 43 in Detroit and president of Teamsters Local 299 in Detroit. He said he had been in the Teamsters since about 1932.

Motorist Foils Holdup Attempt

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An alert motorist has been credited with foiling a holdup at a supermarket here last night.

An armed man attempted to get employees to reopen the store as they were locking up. The motorist, who was unidentified, witnessed the incident and drove away looking for a telephone to call police.

The gunman noticed the car leaving, and left himself.

Two Held for Taking Shot at Costello

NEW YORK (AP) — A pudgy former boxer and small-time gambler faces arraignment today in Federal Court on a charge of attempted murder in the May '42 shooting of racketeer Frank Costello.

Vincent L. (The Chin) Gigante, 29, was charged last night, seven hours after he surrendered voluntarily at a police station. He was held overnight.

He had been sought by police because he roughly fits the description of a "fat man" placed at the scene of the assassination attempt nearly four months ago.

The shooting suspect was described as a 235-or 245-pounder, 30 to 35 years old, six feet tall with heavy thighs and a pot belly, who wears a size 50 suit and wears when he walks.

Gigante is 5 feet 11 and weighs 215 pounds.

Costello suffered a superficial head wound in the bungled assassination.

Official quarters in London said today there was mounting evidence to establish a submarine base in the Middle East as a follow up to its victory in Syria.

A Soviet submarine base in Syria, or one controlled by Russia would outflank the Baghdad Pact powers, lessen the effectiveness of the U. S. 6th Fleet and would change the strategic picture in the Mediterranean.

The reports coincided with growing fears in the Arab world itself that the Soviets were becoming too well entrenched. Mideast reports said Syrian President Shukri al Kuwari was being approached for a "final resort" Arab conference to try and halt the Soviet advance.

Unconfirmed rumors circulating in Beirut, Lebanon, said the Soviet was pouring in technicians and civilians to speed the "takeover" of Syria. There was no confirmation of these reports in official quarters.

In Cairo the government newspaper Al Gomhuria reported Syrian officers had trained in Poland to operate two Russian submarines being turned over to Syria by the Soviet Union under their arms pact deal.

Egypt recently received three submarines from the Soviets, but Al Gomhuria noted this was not the same line of agreement reached in Moscow by Syrian Defense Minister Khaled Elazam.

United Press diplomatic correspondent K. C. Thaler reported in London that the NATO pact Allies were expected to confer in Paris on this new threat to NATO and the Baghdad nations — Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Britain and Pakistan.

British and American diplomats already were conferring on the new threat, but Washington dispatches indicated the administration had come to the conclusion it could do nothing because the Eisenhower Doctrine is not applicable in the Syrian case.

The Cairo press meanwhile used a surprisingly mild tone toward the Western powers in urging them to adopt a "conciliatory attitude" toward the Syrian-American crisis.

The Cairo newspapers also hinted that the split between Jordan and Egypt would end soon and that Jordan would reopen its Cairo embassy on Sept. 2. The embassy was closed after Jordan accused Egypt of plotting political assassinations in Amman.

Crop-duster Unhurt in Plane Crash

JONESBORO (AP) — A Missouri crop duster apparently escaped serious injury yesterday when his plane crashed a mile northeast of Bay, about 10 miles south of here.

Witnesses said Reuhmann had finished dusting a row and started to climb when his plane nosed into the ground from a height of about 20 feet.

Giants Plan Move Sometime in October

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP) The Giants after three quarters of a century in New York, have decided to relocate their baseball franchise in San Francisco.

The official move will come sometime between Oct. 1 and Oct. 31, the specified time for any such action.

The Giants are not expected to make the 3,000-mile trek across the country alone. In all likelihood their long-time rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers, will move to Los Angeles.

President Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers was not available for comment but an announcement regarding the Dodgers' intentions is expected sometime next week when the board of directors meets to consider a move to California. Horace Stoneham, Giant president, declined to discuss the possibility of the Dodgers' moving, but another Giant official, who declined use of his name, said emphatically: "You can bet all the money you've got the Dodgers will be in Los Angeles next year."

Los Angeles resident who expressed certainty of the coming of the Dodgers was Lee Durocher, onetime manager of both the Dodgers and Giants.

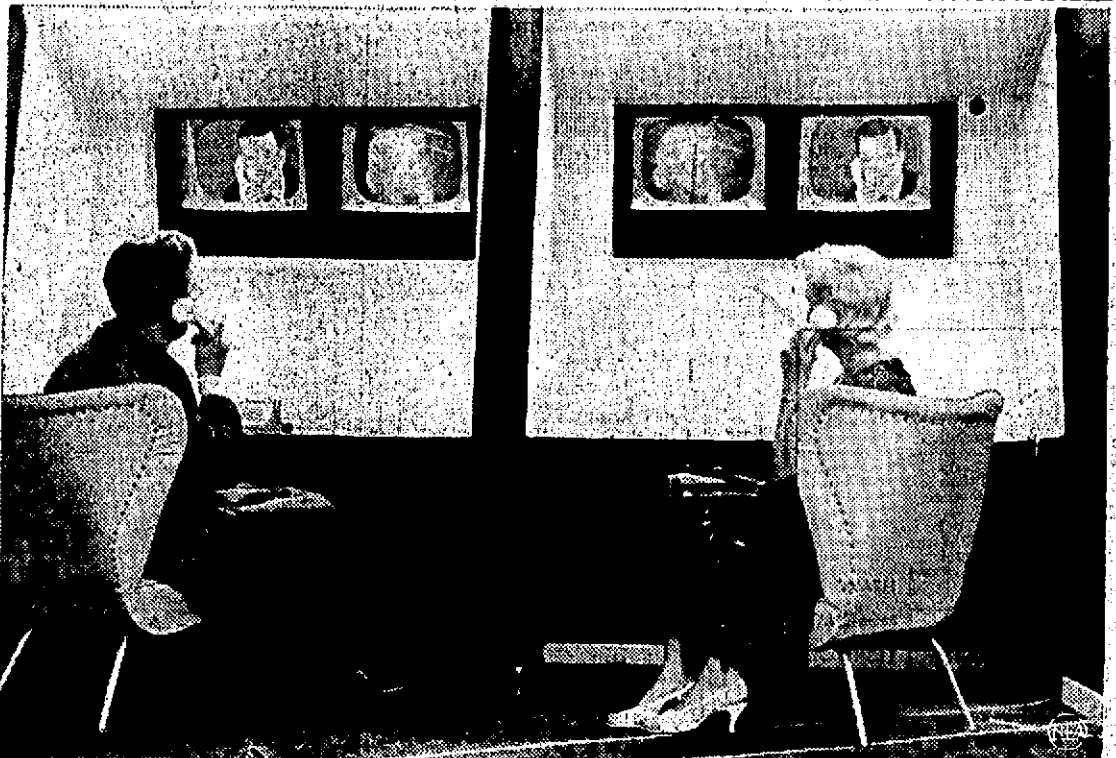

"I thought the Dodgers were almost a cinch to come first, but it looks like the Giants have simply beaten them to the punch," Durocher said.

Stoneham's reason for recommending the transfer was poor attendance.

"We had to go now," he said, "because if we had waited until our lease at the Polo Grounds expired in 1962, there probably wouldn't be a good place left to move. Another thing, if we hadn't acted as fast as we did, some other club would have beaten us to San Francisco. They made us such an attractive offer, we just couldn't turn it down."

HEAVE HO—Moving day in Baling, North Malaya, has a character all its own. Strong men just hoist the house up (above) and carry it to a new location. The drudgery of moving is shared by about 200 Malaysians.

Move Spells End to Pacific Coast League

SEATTLE (AP) Decision of the New York Giants to move to San Francisco spelled the end of the Pacific Coast League.

Perhaps, henceforth, some other alignment of teams will carry the name, but even that appears doubtful. And it probably wouldn't have the "open" or highest minor league classification of the present PCL.

Indemnities will be paid, the amount to be determined by negotiation, but PCL President Leslie O'Connor has declared the westward migration of the National League.

The next step anticipated is for the Brooklyn Dodgers to name Los Angeles as their 1958 home.

That will finish the PCL, even O'Connor says so.

Lost to the minors will be San Francisco, Los Angeles and Hollywood; for sure, probably lost will be San Diego and Sacramento.

Seattle, Portland and Vancouver could be the only surviving PCL teams. There is talk here of a Northwest League with perhaps a double A classification two notches below that of the present PCL. Joining such an alignment might be Spokane, Victoria and other cities in the area.

Seattle and Portland, however, have major league ambitions themselves.

Firefighters Busy, Ranchers Take Over

VALE, Ore., AP A 12,000-acre range fire kept fire-fighting equipment in eastern Oregon so busy over the weekend that ranchers had to start out another small range blaze with their feet.

The 12,000-acre fire was believed to be virtually out today. A skeleton crew of 30 men kept watch last night.

The fire broke out Friday, starting from a day-bailing operation. Within a few hours it had raced through thousands of acres to dry grass and brush.

It leveled the old mining town of Malheur City, now an abandoned ghost village, and burned down power poles. Several ranches and a valuable stand of timber were saved.

selected merchandise. To be able to recommend the best product for every need, it is part of my training to know the standards of quality and measures that have been established by science and experience. When I order goods my selection is based on the known merits of these widely recognized standards.

"Then I advertise to give people the news of my store. Because I know that nearly everybody reads a newspaper I use newspaper advertising regularly. When people pay for newspapers they read them carefully for all of the news that is interesting to them. When my ads are newsy and contain useful information

I know that people will read them because they are news."

Another fact that merchants like about newspaper advertising is that they can buy it on the basis of known values that are just as definite as the measures of weight and quality that apply to merchandise when they handle.

Businessmen cannot afford to speculate with advertising. When they buy newspaper space they can make their investments on the strength of circulation facts and figures that are verified.

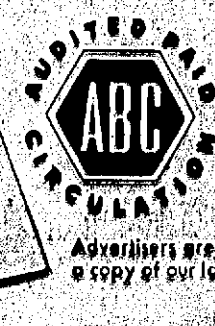

It is good business practice to buy advertising by such methods just as it is good business to buy and sell merchandise on the basis of known standards.

by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, a cooperative, nonprofit association of more than 3,575 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies.

At regular intervals the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is a member, sends an experienced circulation auditor to make a thorough inspection and audit of our circulation records. The FACTS established by his audit are published in an A.B.C. report, which tells you: How much circulation we have; where it goes; how obtained; how much people pay for our paper; and many other FACTS that you need in order to KNOW what you get for your advertising money.

Advertisers are invited to ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

Most Viewers Never See Daytime TV

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP) — Approximately two-thirds of the nation's average TV audience never gets a chance to see the major chunk of megacycle enterprise known as the weekday morning programs.
In this company are the folks who go to work, or are off in summer camps. Not included in the statistics are the ones who deliberately ignore the big glass eye until after dinner.

As a special service to this neglected group, here is a minute-by-minute report on what was doing on the airwaves from 5:30 a.m. to noon EDT one typical morning.

As the set warned to work, there was Ned Calmer on CBS with all sorts of news. A few minutes later "Today's" Jack Lescault over on NBC reported the news.

At 8 a.m. the adolescent element of the audience started getting saturation attention. Calmer yielded to Capt. Kangaroo, coaxed a rooster to crow, and the just-awakened ABC channel brought Tinker Tom to the waiting moppets.

NBC, sticking with the adult customers, had Dave Garrovay, fresh from vacation, interviewing an Air Force major.

Josie McCarthy then emerged on "Today" with a menu for dinner tonight.

ABC, completely dedicated to the kiddies unreeling a steady stream of animated cartoons.

A change of pace around the dial became noticeable soon after 9 a.m. A film episode of "My Little Margie" descended on CBS followed by a repeat of Stu Erwin capers.

By 10 a.m., ABC was firmly involved in a Western film, the progress of which could be reliably checked by tuning a line of talk every 15 minutes.

Fred Waring, in mood of relaxed precision, moved onto CBS with vocals and violins, just as Arlene Francis unveiled another installment of her new show for NBC.

Steadfastly spinning the dial on the viewer's kaleidoscope became a sequence of quiz shows on NBC (Jan Murray, Bill Cullen); Peter Lind Hayes trying on a series of hats in place of Arthur Godfrey on CBS.

The local DuMont station, hooked up with some other independent stations, brought in the ce, but a group of Northern Democrats has moved to put it before the House for action.

Rights Bill May

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republicans and Northern Democrats sat tight today, trying to force each other to back down on the civil rights bill.

House GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts said the only way the Democrats can get a bill passed is to make some concessions to the Republican drive for a stronger measure than the Senate's.

But Northern Democrats weren't budging from their proposal to accept the Senate bill with the Senate's broad jury trial amendment limited to voting rights cases.

There was some talk that Congress would go home without passing the bill this year. Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) still spoke hopefully of getting the measure before the House this week. But plans for adjournment by Saturday were slipping.

Four pro-civil rights Democrats on the House Rules Committee yesterday set a tentative Thursday deadline for a committee decision on whether to take up the stalemated bill.

But these Democrats needed votes from at least three of the four Republicans on the 12-man committee to force a decision. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), chairman of the committee that has three other Southern Democrats, said he was "for any course" that would result in no civil rights bill.

The three-way split has stymied the measure ever since the Senate passed an amended version Aug. 7. At that time, the bill went back to the House, which earlier had passed the measure in a form generally in line with President Eisenhower's proposals. The Rules Committee has had the bill since last week.

Martin was asked if Democratic leaders would have to make some concessions in return for Republican support to dislodge the bill. "That's the only way they'll get a bill through," Martin replied. He did not specify what the concessions must be.

The GOP chief added that so far the Democrats have made no move to come to an agreement with the Republicans. He said no one on the other side "has said anything to me about the bill since the bill passed the Senate."

morning's principal change of pace with on-the-spot coverage of the Senate's Labor Committee investigation.

ABC, the cattle situation cleaned up, brought its morning stint to windup with film adventure in the skies.

NBC, fighting hard for the quiz fans, submitted Bob Parker hilariously agog over "Truth or Consequences." The Senate hearing went on. The gavel finally rapped for noon recess.

I thought of the people at work, or off in camp. They didn't know what they were missing.

Hats move to the back of the head this fall and take on a soft, draped look. Profile turban (upper left) by Sally Victor is printed wool jersey in an abstract pattern of grays and beiges on a white ground. This same designer does a profile toque (upper center) in amber velvet caught at one side with a large topaz-colored jewel. This hat is completely crushable, can be packed flat in a suitcase. Turban of gleaming ruby-red satin (upper right) has crown elaborately embroidered with fake ruby jewels. It is by Beatrice Martin. Spanish Isabella cap (lower left) by Emme has high draped crown of sapphire matte jersey and draped bandeau of matching blue velvet. Completely flattering is the hat of white ermine (lower center) by Miss May. This has beret crown mounted on turban drape of white satin. Ruby red wool jersey is draped into turban (lower right) by Hattie Carnegie. It is smooth and high above the brow, dipping low at the sides.

DOROTHY DIX

If You Must Play, Don't Use Your Baby As Pawn!

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm 17, and my baby is due in three months. I love Scott, the father, but don't want to marry him because I know he'd never be a good provider. He's rather a dull person, but kind and understanding. I have another boy friend, Dick, who wants to marry me but isn't too fond of children. He knows about the baby, but figures my mother or sisters would be glad to take care of it (as they say they would). Should I decide on Scott or Dick?

I'm enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for a copy of your leaflet, "The Pelling Problem." Thank you. PEACHES
Dear Peaches: What do you think marriage and parenthood are? Endless rides on a baroussel with a brass ring guaranteed every time? Your sense of utter irresponsibility has you marked as future grist for a juvenile court. You don't want advice; you want a keeper! Aren't you rather late asking for "The Pelling Problem" leaflet? You already know all the answers. (The leaflet will be helpful to more circumspect teen-agers, however. If anyone would like one, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope.)

I'm glad your baby has been assured a good home. Just tell your family, for me, to keep it away from you, Scott, Dick, and any other Tom or Harry you might pick up in the future.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a widow with a daughter who became the mother of a baby born out of wedlock. She's living with me and we get along fine. I've been going with a very nice man who wants to marry me. My daughter says she won't live with us. She wants to get an apartment with another girl and take the baby. I just don't know if it will work out for them.

Dear P. L.: Your daughter seems to be running her life pretty much in accordance with her personal desires. Don't let her start dictating to you. If this is a bona fide marriage proposal that's being offered to you, and you have reason to be sure it won't backfire, don't let daughter boss you into rejecting it. I doubt if she'll be around to take care of you in your old age. If she doesn't give her child the proper care she will be reported to the Child Welfare Agency.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I love music and play the trumpet very well. How can I form a band of a few fellows to make some money part-time? We have a nice furnished room in the basement where we could practice. All I need is the contacts.

MAX
Dear Max: You live in a good sized city where there is, I am sure, plenty of musical talent. Advertise for it! Run an ad in your church bulletin. If you are a high school or college lad, use the school paper. Get in touch with a few music teachers or schools (through the pages of the classified), and ask them to recommend someone. Lots of young men have small orchestras and I'm sure yours will be a success.

Dear Dorothy Dix: We want to plan an outdoor dance in our school (parochial) yard. Should we ask the priest first? Should we give the profits to the church or another charity?

HAPPY AND SANDY
Dear Girls: By all means ask permission first. This is a must. Why not plan the dance as a fund-raiser for your favorite charity? This will win outside interest and add to the success of your party.

Negroes Move Into All-White Community

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A Negro family moved into this all-white community under police protection yesterday. Some residents greeted its arrival with jeers and stone throwing.

"All I want to do is be a good neighbor and I hope others do the same," said William J. Myers, 34, in his new ranch-style home.

Last night, 42 state policemen were busy keeping some 250 protesting neighbors in this sprawling development of 15,000 homes pushed back two blocks from Myers' home.

Rocks were hurled and a trooper and a news photographer were struck. One man was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct.

State Police Lt. J. M. Wicker shouted over a loud-speaker: "You have struck one of my men. I will not tolerate this. I give you 10 minutes to get back to your homes."

Twenty-two troopers lined up with riot sticks and forced the crowd back. The sticks were used on one resident who Wicker said was cursing officers and resisting the police line. He was identified as Donald Walker, 34, a truck driver, of Levittown, who was fined $10 after pleading guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct.

By midnight, all but a handful of the crowd had returned to their homes.

The police force was cut to four troopers guarding the Myers home.

$12 Million for Two Arkansas Air Bases
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate last night passed a $1,324,000,000 supplemental appropriations bill. Most of the funds would go for military public works, including more than 12 million dollars for two Air Force bases in Arkansas.

The Senate also passed an armed forces construction authorization bill yesterday which provides $11,510,000 for the Blytheville (Ark.) Air Force Base. This means

Both the House and Senate versions would appropriate $11,810,000 for the Blytheville Air Force Base and $9,000,000 for the Little Rock (Ark.) Air Force Base.

Three Champs Lead Way in Woman's Play
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) - Three champions and a group of eager, long-hitting young challengers led the way today into the second round of the 57th U.S. Women's amateur golf championship.
Defending champion Marlene Stewart Strait of Fonthill, Ont., Barbara Romack Porter of Sacramento, the 1954 champ, and Patricia Lesser of Seattle, 1955 titleholder, led the 64 players left in the tournament after the first day.
But they faced a strong challenge from a group of free-swinging youngsters headed by Joanne Gunderson and Ann Quast of Seattle; Judy Eller, the 16-year-old national junior champ from Old Hickory, Tenn.; and Anne Richardson of Columbus, Ohio, only a year or so out of her teens and the longest hitter in the tournament.
Neither Strait, Porter nor Lesser rank in the annals of class, all being in the first round match at the 6,388, par four Del Paso Country Club produced the brand of golf shown yesterday by Misses Quast and Gunderson.
Miss Quast, back in tournament golf after a serious illness, was three under par yesterday, disposing of Gail Depietro of Pleasanton, Calif., 7 and 6, in a first round match. Miss Gunderson was four under women's par in the 13 holes it took her to wipe out Mrs. Charles Cary of Oakland, Calif., 8 and 6.

need preserve two important facilities to retain his championship form.
"One, he has to have control of his nerves, and two, he still has to hit them long," says the 49-year-old Kansan who in 1939 started the golf world by shooting an amazing 58 at San Antonio, Tex. This was the first competitive tournament round ever shot under 60 strokes.
"Once you get jittery on the greens, you're through," Jug says. "And it's the same if you can't push them out there where the youngsters are hitting them."
On both counts, McSpaden believes he has it still. "It's mostly a matter of practice and I think I could get in shape again with six months of hard work."

SPARKPLUG—Good thing there's no spark in this plug or Curtis Wheeler, a garage attendant in New York City, might get jolted out of his reverie. It was a nice day and Wheeler just got carried away. Think he could get a ticket for parking next to a fireplug?

Boosters Plan Drive to Sell Season Grid Tickets

Hope Boosters Club met last night in Jones Field House with about 40 members present. President Roy Taylor got the meeting underway with the discussion of advance sales of football tickets and box seats.
Principal Julius Adams explained the ticket sales operation, stating that East side box seats, (Visitors' Side), would be sold for $5.00 with seating capacity of 8 persons to a box.
These box seats will be sold by Roy Taylor, Jewell Moore Jr., and Cecil O'Steen. For the West side box seats, (Home side), patrons are asked to call the High school office, phone 7-3451, or come to the office and see Mrs. Park. There will not be any reserved seats in the stands this season; it's first come, first served.
Members of the Booster club will sell season tickets to the football games, a book of six home game tickets for $5.00. Students will have a chance to buy a season ticket for $4.00, good for all athletic games through the school season. This includes all football games, Varsity and Junior games and all basketball games.
L. B. Tooley and Kelly Walton were chosen as captains to spearhead the ticket drive and picked five men each as assistants. Ted Lee's Red team with Norman Moore, Jamie Russell, E. J. Whitman, Forrest Hairr and Royce Welsenberger and Walton's Blue team with Jewell Moore, Noah Hobbs, Roy Taylor, Homer Boyerley and Al Page, together with each side having one half of the money, will vie for a barbeque chicken dinner, the living side to provide the dinner.
President Taylor appointed a nominating committee composed of: Forrest Hairr, Rufus Herndon Jr., Norman Moore and Jack Brown to submit candidates for the office of President, Vice Pres., Secretary, Treasurer and 3 board of directors at the next meeting which will be Tuesday night September 3rd.
Coach Leon Turpin announced that there would be the annual inter-squad pre-season game on Thursday night, September 5th. Charges for this Red and White game will be 10c and 25c and the Booster Club will sponsor the game with proceeds to buy film for the school motion picture camera which films the six home games.
The Booster Club membership drive will get underway later this month and everyone interested in Hope athletics are urged to join. Just contact Roy Taylor, Noah Hobbs, Kelly Walton or Dale Jones. Bob Westbrook was taken into the club last night as a new member.

Rademacher, Patterson Has the Publicity

SEATTLE (AP) - This is tapering-off day in the championship camp as Floyd Patterson winds up training for a Thursday bout that Manager Gus D'Amato calls "the most heavily publicized fight in 30 years."
"Not even the Dempsey-Tunney fights captured the interest of press and public as this one has," D'Amato said yesterday while Patterson was winding up his strenuous training program.
Challenger Pete Rademacher planned one more session of heavy work today before breaking camp. The Olympic champion from Grandview, Wash., retains his air of quiet confidence as fight time nears.
"Even before the fight I feel repaid," said the 28-year-old challenger who will net nearly a nickel from the fracas. "The realization of a dream is payment enough."
Rademacher himself proposed the fight to D'Amato, who was intrigued at the idea of pitting the world's amateur king against the professional champion for the first time in history.
In fact that the fight has been panned as a "mismatch" by ex-fighters, ring officials, a Congress man and many writers has not bothered any of the principals.
The placid Rademacher, refusing to consider Rademacher anything but a dangerous opponent, has stuck faithfully to a stiff training program. The champion will go into the bout weighing about 160 and D'Amato says, "In peak condition, physically and mentally."
Both fighters will break camp tomorrow and rest until the weigh-in scheduled for Thursday noon.

Admission will be 50c and $1.00 with children free. Possibly other members of the two clubs will see action in the later innings of the game, depending on the physical condition of the starting lineups.

Mrs. McGraw Doesn't Like Moving Giants

NEW YORK (AP) - The bespectacled, grandmotherly little lady sighed today as her memories sped back over the decades.
"I guess all I have left now is memories," said Mrs. John McGraw sadly.
Mrs. McGraw is the widow of John Joseph McGraw, the Little Napoleon who ruled the New York Giants for 30 years.
Mrs. McGraw was upset when she found that the Giants Board of Directors had voted to move the franchise to San Francisco next year.
"It's one of the most tragic things that ever happened to me," she said. "I just can't imagine that I'll never again watch the Giants at the Polo Grounds. The Giants have been my life. Why, I don't know what I'll do with myself."
McGraw died in 1934. He led the Giants to 10 National League pennants and during his reign the rest of the league lived in mortal fear of them. The Giants of those days were like the New York Yankees of today.
Mrs McGraw never forgot the club.
In the intervening years, she has taken her accustomed seat near the Giants' dugout in the Polo Grounds at least three times a week during home stands.
"Old-time Giant fans know me and bring their children to talk to me," she recalled. "They want me to tell them about Mr. McGraw, and his teams."
"That makes me happy, because it keeps Mr. McGraw's memories alive. The children are pleased because they know they are talking to someone who knew first hand about the wonderful Giant teams of the past."

Lowry Remains in Non-Pro Title Play

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) - Lowry Air Force Base of Denver remained in the running today for the National Non-Pro Baseball title with a 7-0 victory over Elkhorn, Neb., in a game that didn't start until after midnight and ended around 3 a.m.

Earlier Monday night Casa Grande, Ariz., shut out Poncha-toula, La., 6-0 on the one-hit pitching of Dave Baldwin.
All three games were second round pairings but only Elkhorn fell to the way-side under rules of the marathon double-elimination tournament.
Today's schedule—all first round games:

Space Prober Likely to Hit 100,000 Feet

CROSBY, Minn. (AP) - Warrington from the rising sun sent the helium-filled Air Force balloon and its doctor-pilot back up toward the 100,000 foot mark early today, temporarily delaying a descent.
An Air Force flight evaluation team stationed in Minneapolis said new calculations were being drawn in an attempt to determine where Maj. David G. Simons would land the balloon and its sealed, instrument-laden gondola after a possible second altitude mark.
Maj. Simons reached an estimated 100,000 feet, about 15 miles, yesterday in his first 15 hours aloft, spending a night in the heavens he termed "indescribable."
At 10:30 a.m. the balloon was reported about 60 miles west-southwest of Wahpeton, N. D., at an altitude of 90,000 feet. Flight evaluation officers said Maj. Simons had no order to descend. The planned descent to start at 7:00 a.m. was cancelled when the balloon started to rise as helium expanded under the sun's warmth. Wahpeton is about 150 miles west of the Crosby, Min., launching point.

Baruch at 87 Wants Only to See Peace

OLD WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch, adviser to President and parkbench philosopher, celebrates his 87th birthday today with one wish: to see the dawn of world peace.

The Camden, S. C., native, who amassed three million dollars by the age of 32, will spend the day at a summer cottage here on Long Island. He expects visits from his three children.

Yesterday, Baruch sat on a porch and talked informally about making his first million dollars, the difficulty of finding a formula for betting on horse races and denying that he never drank intoxicating liquor.

"I've never been a tectotator of anything in my life," he said. The famous stock market trader and government fiscal expert grew serious when the conversation drifted to world peace and the Baruch plan for atomic control, which the Soviet Union rejected.

"If I had one wish to be granted me, I should like to see a start made toward permanent peace in the world. Agreements between nations will not guarantee it.

"There must be an international authority which owns all the natural resources and fissionable materials required to wage atomic war. The authority must also have control of the necessary scientific and metallurgical processes.

"Then all the world's atom bombs must be handed over to the authority for debombing. The danger of contamination by fallout is thus eliminated because there would be no testing of atomic weapons. All atomic energy will be utilized for peaceful purposes."

Baruch's 6-foot-4 frame is spare and bent only slightly. He talks in a rush, indicating that a brain which was at the service of every president since Woodrow Wilson is still keen.

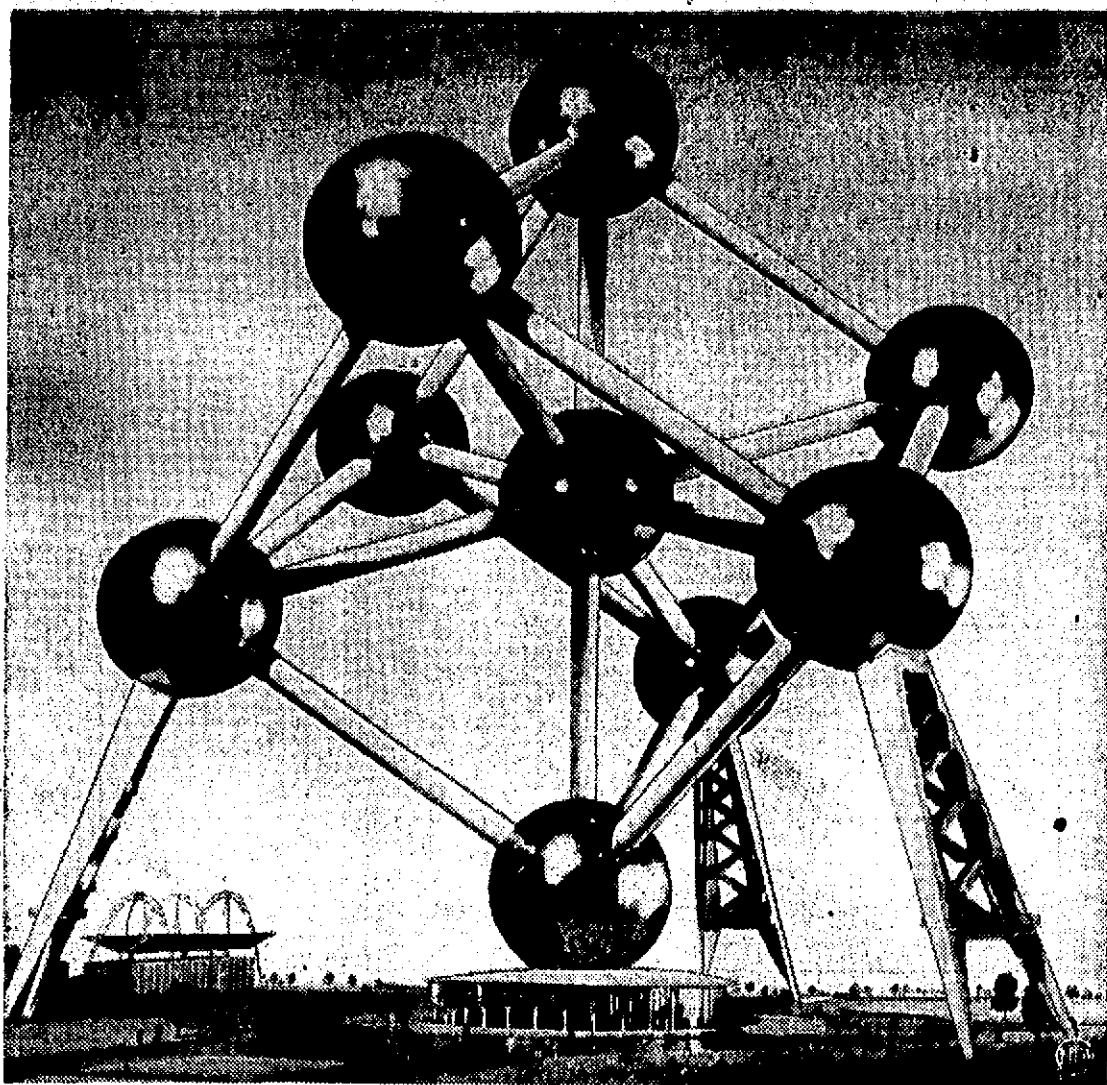

Would Russia ever accept his plan for world peace? "I believe that public opinion, the Russian people, will eventually force their leaders to approve it."

One of four sons of Dr. Simon and Belle Wolfe Baruch, he moved with his family to New York at the age of 11. A graduate of City College of New York, Baruch entered Wall Street as a runner, at $3 a week.

The first volume of his autobiography, "My Own Story," will be published today. The second is scheduled for the fall of next year. He hopes to work on it today if visits from his children, Mrs. Belle Wilcox, Mrs. Ene M. Samstag and Bernard M. Baruch Jr., and a rush of telegrams will allow.

"Who the hell wants to celebrate an 87th birthday," he exclaimed. "That's all right for youngsters of 60 or 70."

Baruch sheep, imported from North Africa, are now a game animal in New Mexico's high plateau country.

ATOMS OVER BRUSSELS—The 360-foot-high Atomium, sketched above, will be the dominant theme-structure at the 1958 Brussels World's Fair. Equivalent to a 30-story skyscraper, it will represent the atomic structure of an elemental iron crystal enlarged 160 billion times. The Atomium consists of nine giant steel spheres, each 59 feet in diameter, interconnected by a series of 95-foot tubular passageways. The structure, with an overall weight of 1,400 tons, will rest on a base sphere with additional support from a trio of rigid steel pylons butressing the three lower spheres.

CHAPTER XXXII

"What else?" The words came out of Blanchard like bullets.

"That's all he said. I think I know what it is now. I know why he did it. He did it to Pete what he did to Barney. Leave him in front of a stampede . . . to die!"

Blanchard threw a quick look at me and then turned back to Lillian. Then I knew what held him back. He still wasn't all the way sure. He still didn't trust her. Right then I was mad at Harney Blanchard. Mad and sorry. I was sure he'd lose it all if he didn't believe her. I grabbed his arm.

"Harney! Believe her!"

"Oh, yes!" Lillian said. "Trust me." Blanchard stared at both of us, his eyes narrowed down. Then he looked south after Cole Jehrore, south to the basin, with the rim now showing a gray line under the moon. He took his hands off

Lillian's shoulders and turned from us, fighting hard in himself. Lillian took two quick steps and put her hand on his arm. Soft but sharp, she said, "Listen then. Believe this, at least. I have no friends among the Clements or the Jehrores. I can't have, as long as my son Dick limps. My husband wasn't any hero to me. I might have killed him myself, if I had the courage. Dick wasn't playing around Barney's horse when he got hurt. Barney was crazy drunk and took him out for a ride and let him drop under the horse. Drunk. Mr. Blanchard! He let him drop!"

Blanchard turned to her slowly. I couldn't believe that she'd said it. I couldn't see at all why she'd say a thing like that. A man like Barney Jehrore, doing that to his own son.

Lillian said, "Barney made me promise not to tell. Said it was over and nothing to be done about it. Said he'd stop drinking. Be the man everybody thought he was. So listen, Mr. Blanchard. Save Pete Dorsey. No man should die for killing Barney. He wasn't worth it!"

Blanchard grabbed my shoulder and I knew he was ready. He said, "Pike, stay here and take care of her. I'll head out to the basin. Don't you leave her, Pike." It sounded crazy. Maybe I wasn't much but I was all the help Blanchard had. If he ever needed me, it looked like this was the time. I opened my mouth to argue. By the time I thought of what to say, Blanchard was gone, running hard to the livery. He went in and was soon out, leading that good bay horse and bucking a strap. He threw himself on and the bay thumped past us, headed south, the hoofbeats thunder in the street, puffs of dust trailing him. He hit the wagon road and dropped out of sight. I could hear the beat of his horse on the slope to the ferry.

Lillian said, "Pike, Cole didn't tell me just to get him out here, did he?"

I felt like she'd been using my head to thin. "I don't know. I don't think so." The men felt foolish standing there. "Ma'am," I said, "Harney needs help bad."

"Do you want to go, Pike?"

"Harney said to stay!"

"If you want to, I can't hold you. I have the gun, Pike, and Dick is safe. If it will help him, and you want to . . ."

I was arguing with myself. I had a hard time in my mind. It just didn't make a whole lot of sense to come so far with a man like Blanchard and then stop. A grown-up man hadn't caught to play nursemaid when his friend is in bad trouble. You couldn't work with a man and be his friend unless you could trust him. Blanchard was depending on me to stay with Lillian. But the thought came creeping there in the dark of the street, that maybe Blanchard wasn't so worried about Lillian as he was about me and the trouble I might get into out there in the night. So he decided to save me and went out there all alone.

"All right," I said. "I'll head out. You tell Harney how it was."

I took a quick look across the river and saw Blanchard hit the crest of the first slope. He was marked against the sky for a second and then he dropped away, moving fast on the wagon road. Beyond Blanchard, to the south and east, black bunches of but-

U. S. Rapped as Latin Nations Meet

BUENOS AIRES — The United States came under attack today as delegates to the Inter-American Conference problem of the Western Hemisphere.

Washington P. Bermudez of Uruguay, chairman of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council, charged the United States is not helping enough to solve the problems of Latin America.

He called on the United States "to satisfy the expectations that its position as the economic leader of the American community logically has aroused."

The proposed agreement — looked on as the keystone of the conference — may be dropped in favor of a noncontroversial declaration of principles.

The proposed pact stresses that economic problems reach across frontiers and create common responsibilities. Diplomatic sources said the draft is so controversial it would be virtually impossible to concure on it in the two or three weeks before the conference ends.

Prospects also appeared slight that any agreement would be reached on a proposed Inter-American Bank. This proposal had run into strong U.S. opposition.

68 New Troopers Go Into Training

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A 6-week training course with emphasis on traffic began at nearby Camp Robinson yesterday for 68 persons who hope to join the expanded Arkansas State Police.

The school is the first for rookie state policemen in four years. It was made possible when the 1937 Legislature raised the 1 driver's license fee to 2 to allow the employment of 92 additional persons, mostly as state troopers.

Lt. Mack Thompson, assistant director of the school, said 71 persons were selected from 750 applications. Three failed to appear yesterday.

faloes were spotted against the prairie as far as I could see. At the ford I reined up and held the gelding dancing near the water. I saw the rocks and knew the horse would have to settle down before I took him through. There wasn't time for it. I couldn't ride the road after Blanchard. I'd have to strike across the prairie and pull up over the north ridge into the basin and hope the gelding didn't step in a hole. All I knew was that Blanchard was on the road heading toward the Clements' cabin and The Narrows. He had a half-mile start on a hard-running horse. My only chance to catch him was to let the gelding go across the grass, hoping he'd have enough bottom after a hard run to dig up over the ridge.

I set him up the sharp rise away from the river and then swung him southwest and let him run. Wind ripped my hat away and I didn't even grab for it.

I held close to the bending river for a mile, then veered west some. I remembered a dry creek bed, not far ahead. Soon I saw the creek drop out of the prairie. I drew up the gelding and then he saw the bank and went down it fast, snorting, sliding in the sand. He hit the sandy bottom and headed south. His hoofbeats soft. I felt my rifle against my leg and knew it had worked out of the scabbard coming over the bank. I pushed it down. Glad I had it. I might be no man at all without a gun.

City Disturbed Over a Single Negro Family

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Many of the 60,000 inhabitants of this sprawling residential development were banded into two factions today because of some new neighbors a Negro family.

The groups have their names and their leaders. They both admit their positions aren't too far apart. They both profess a desire to be lawabiding and avoid violence.

One organization — called the Levittown Betterment Committee — is in direct and definite opposition to the plans of William J. Myers, 32, and his wife and three children to move into an $11,000 home here.

The committee, headed by James Newell, says Myers should stay out for his own good and for the good of Levittown. Newell has conducted mass meetings to back up this contention.

The other group — called the Citizens' Committee for Levittown — stresses a more conservative approach. Its leader, the Rev. Ray L. Harwick, a Protestant minister, explored the actions of some of its citizens and condemned what he called "racial bias."

Mr. Harwick said some members of his group are opposed to the Myers' moving into this all-white community, while others would welcome the Negro family as neighbors.

Harwick says: "One purpose of our group is to show there are plenty of people who don't get panicky in a situation like this, who believe the situation can be worked out calmly, intelligently and legally without anyone compromising his beliefs or getting hurt in the process."

Newell says: "Our purpose in continuing our organization is to devise peaceful means of accomplishing the purpose of restoring our entire white community. One of the means to be considered is supplying Myers with sufficient funds to enable them to buy an even better home in a location such as Concord Garden Homes, which is devised for integration of Negro and white."

Myers, a college-educated refrigeration engineer, hasn't moved in to his house in this vast development of new low and medium priced houses on the outskirts of metropolitan Philadelphia.

Since it has been known he has bought here, mobs of up to 500 have congregated in front of the house.

Writer Will Play in Movie of His Story

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I no longer have a lifetime to look forward to and take care of. At the most, it is 20 or 25 years. So now I can afford to take chances."

This, Erich Maria Remarque reasons, is why he agreed to write the screen play for his book, "A Time To Love and a Time To Die," and get in it, too. At latest report, the film is being called "There's a Time To Love" — don't ask why.

I came across the famed novelist, handsome at 59, as he had finished the last pages of the screen play and was cleaning out his desk.

He proved to be an excellent talker. It is easy to see how his charm has fascinated such famous women as Marlene Dietrich, Greta Garbo and Paulette Goddard.

About his screen writing — "This is another departure for me. The first was last year when I went to Berlin to open my first play, 'The Last Station.'

"Before we opened, the cast came and asked me what they should do if the audience started throwing stones. We just didn't know what they would do. Here was a story of the last days of Berlin before the fall of Hitler. There were scenes of the rape of women and we knew there would be women in the audience who had been through such things. How would they react?"

"The play had 33 curtain calls. It was a great hit and encouraged me to attempt this screen play."

Why hasn't he adapted his novels before? Six of the eight have been brought for the screen.

"Because I reach the point in the writing of a novel when I could become violently ill if I had to look at it again," he sighed. "Although I have lived in this country over 20 years, I still write in German and have someone else translate. I couldn't stand to look at the novel myself."

Another reason for the film project: To escape the humid New York summer. Universal International came up with the deal at just the right time.

It's the first time in 30 years he has worked in an office. He remarked, "The last was when I edited a sports car magazine in Germany. He took time out from his work to write a novel, 'All Quiet on the Western Front.'"

Writing time: Five weeks. Remarque writes the hard way — pencil on paper. "I never learned to type," he explained. "When I was an editor in Germany, inflation had wiped out
